OTS Goes Live with Google Transit

(Oshkosh, WI.) The Oshkosh Transit System (OTS) is proud to announce that its route and schedule information is now available on Google Transit and Google's Trip Planner. This web-based trip planning tool will provide OTS bus riders with easy access to route and schedule information.

The Trip Planner is designed to help transit riders find their way from points A to B in the city of Oshkosh. Riders provide their trip origin, destination, and travel time to utilize the Trip Planner. Google Transit does the rest and displays a mapped bus route option or options. Each option will include pedestrian directions to and from the nearest bus stop; applicable route numbers including any transfer information; and total travel times for each trip option. Additional guidance on how to use the Trip Planner is provided on OTS's website, www.OshkoshTransit.com.

"Google Transit's Trip Planner application will make OTS bus travel information very accessible and convenient for our customers," said Chris Strong, Oshkosh Transportation Director and Manager of the Oshkosh Transit System. "We are excited to offer this to our riders and other community members that need travel information or would like to explore transportation options."

The Trip Planner also includes OTS's Route 10 intercity service to Neenah and coordinates with Valley Transit's route and schedule connections in Neenah.
