

Downtown Oshkosh as it stands now, with little plant life to be seen.

Even residential neighborhoods with existing mature trees can be improved.

The addition of trees, flowers and shrubs helps transform Downtown Oshkosh, giving it a fresh, vibrant appeal.

Planting trees on the boulevards, burying power lines and adding street lamps improves safety and aesthetics.

Community Pride

First impressions are everything. When our community looks good, it attracts new residents, drives business traffic and boosts tourism.

In 2009, the majority of participants in the Oshkosh Vision Survey indicated that they wanted to see a community with more trees, wider terraces and unified streetscapes. Such minor improvements can make a significant difference in the perception of our community.

Retail development on Koeller Avenue is well-maintained, but dull.

Beautification Benefits

Trees and plants renew the look and feel of our community. Greenery creates a pleasant environment for residents and visitors alike, with such benefits as:

- Improved aesthetics
- Energy conservation
- Storm water retention
- Noise buffering
- Cleaner air
- Increased property values
