Oshkosh State of the City virtual event set for Monday, March 22

OSHKOSH, Wis., March 17, 2021 – The annual Oshkosh State of the City Address and Awards Program will happen in virtual format on Monday, March 22nd. The event, which will also include the presentation of Community Partnership Awards, Citizen Service Awards, the Environmental Leadership Award, and Neighborhood Association Volunteerism Recognition will begin at 7:00 p.m. on multiple media platforms.

The event will begin with City Manager Mark Rohloff delivering the State of the City Address. This year’s Address highlights include a look at the challenges the city has faced this past year, insights into what happens behind the scenes to deliver city services, acknowledgement of the “unsung heroes” who serve us every day, and a look at the collaboration that happens between city departments and the community. City Manager Rohloff will also highlight projects in progress and take a look at what’s to come later in 2021, as well as additional future goals.

Following the Address, the Citizen Service Awards and Community Partnership Awards will be presented by Mayor Lori Palmeri and Oshkosh Common Council members Deb Allison-Aasby, Lynnsey Erickson, Michael Ford, Jake Krause, Matt Mugerauer and Bob Poeschl. The Citizen Service Awards honor individuals who have achieved various five-year milestones serving on city boards and commissions, and the Community Partnership Awards recognize organizations that have enriched the quality of life in Oshkosh through initiatives, programs and support.

The video presentation will debut and be posted as an event on the Oshkosh Media Facebook page at 7:00 p.m. on March 22nd. The full video presentation will also be simulcast at 7:00 p.m. on Gov TV, seen on Spectrum channel 10, U-verse channel 99, the Oshkosh Media channel on Roku, Amazon Fire TV and Apple TV, and live streaming on www.OshkoshMedia.org. It will also be available for viewing later on the Oshkosh Media YouTube channel. For more information, contact Communications Coordinator Andy Radig at (920) 236-5269.
